

Chris Preist

Master Scientist, Sustainable IT Ecosystem Lab, HP Labs Bristol

Hewlett-Packard Laboratories

Chris Preist is a master scientist in the Sustainable IT Ecosystem Labs based in HP Labs Bristol. During 2007, he was lead researcher on the Climate Futures activity in HP Labs, investigating the strategic impact of climate change on business.

Editorial contact:

Julian Richards, HP
+44 (0)117 312 7625
+44 (0)777 570 1800
julian.richards@hp.com

He joined HP Labs in 1987 following a degree in Pure Maths from University of Warwick, and a Ph.D. in logic programming from Imperial College, London. In previous work at HP Labs, he has conducted research in artificial intelligence, automated diagnosis, agent-mediated e-commerce and the semantic web.

Preist is non-executive director of the environmental charity Green Light Trust.

© 2008 Hewlett-Packard Development Company, L.P. The information contained herein is subject to change without notice. HP shall not be liable for technical or editorial errors or omissions contained herein.